

northern ireland water

BOIL WATER BEFORE USE UNTIL FURTHER NOTICE

- Owing to a temporary deterioration in water quality, Northern Ireland Water and the Medical Officer are advising all customers in your area to boil tap water
- Boil all water for cooking and drinking (bringing water to the boil is sufficient)
- Use boiled water that has cooled for drinking, preparing babies' foods, cleaning teeth, making ice cubes and to wash foods which are to be eaten raw e.g. salads
- Tap water can be used for washing and bathing
- The water can be used for toilet flushing
- Please use water sparingly at this time. The unnecessary running of tap water could prolong the problem
- You will be informed when the water is back to normal
- Please talk to your neighbours to ensure that they are aware of the situation
- Every effort is being made to restore your water to normal as soon as possible

We apologise for any inconvenience – for further details please telephone WATERLINE on:

08457
440088