

It's No Joke...

Opening fire hydrants can result in:

- Loss of life
- Injury
- Loss of water supply
- Criminal prosecution

It's not harmless fun!

If you see it, report it –
Call Waterline on 08457 440088

It's not harmless fun!

It may look like fun, groups of young people playing with water coming out of a fire hydrant – but it is really a dangerous, illegal act of vandalism.

Why is it so bad?

Damaging fire hydrants is very dangerous and causes huge problems for your community.

If there were a fire in your area, the NI Fire & Rescue Service may not be able to get water to put the fire out. Is that harmless fun?

If there is water coming out of a fire hydrant it means houses and local businesses will have lower water pressure and sometimes have no water at all. Is that harmless fun?

When NI Water staff go to a fire hydrant to stop the water being wasted, they are often attacked and their vans are damaged. Is that harmless fun?

Help us stop it now –
if you see a hydrant being damaged report it to Waterline 08457 440088

Northern Ireland Water
PO Box 1026
Belfast
BT1 9DJ

Email: waterline@niwater.com
Waterline: 08457 440088
www.niwater.com

May 2011